The sole duty of the treasurer of Virginia is to answer anxious creditors that there isn't any treasure in the treasury.

CONVICT LABOR.-The New York aldermen have asked the legislature to pass Assemblyman Browning's bill pro-viding that convicts in the State prisons shall be employed in branches of indus-try that least conflict with the work of the mechanics of the State, and that the goods made in the prisons shall not be sold in the market at less than their market value at the time of sale.

THE Saginaw Valley, Mich., papers report that a large number of lumber buyers have been in their different places during the past week, and that sales of fully twenty millions of feet were made stly to Chicago dealers. The Bay City Tribune notes "a transaction of 2,500,000 to eastern parties, and 500,000 feet to Ohio parties, and some small lots have en picked up to go eastward. So far as learned, none has been sold at less than $6, $12 and $28, and some transactions have taken place at $6 50, $13 and $30," and commenting on the prospects for the trade for the current season, further says: "Not for some years has the lumber market exhibited such firmness as at present, a decidedly pleasant thing for lumber manufacturers to contem-

"BECAUSE they get their neck twirled he made the acquaintance of Alfred E. in this.' That's the answer to the conun-Morton, who was formerly a special agent of the Postoffice Department, through the influence of Senator Conkling. He worked for Hayes in Florida, but loet his office after Hayes came into the Presidency, and seems to have been soured thereby. While in Florida he became scuquinted with McLin, and was in his confidence. About three months ago he waited on Congressman Finley, of Ohio, and indicated that if he could secure the co operation of prominent politicians he could go to Florida and get testimony which would give indisputable evidence that Hayes and Wheeler were not entitled to the vote of Florida. It is said that Finley consulted with Gen. Butler, Senstor Conkling, Representative Springer and others, but it is not known that he got any encouragement from them, but so, drum about a hen not being immortal," said he, "although her son never sets; bu I want to know why a dead gamecock is like a Millerite's millennium?" Then h like a Millerite's millennium?" Then he leaned languidly against the stove, with his hands in his pockets; and looked wise. "I don't know." said she, "and I don't carr; I suppose it is because he began with a 'mill,' but I wish you'd go along and pick up some chips around somebody's woodpile, so that I can warm that hash over again for supper." "That ain't it," he replied triumphantly, "it is because he is ex-pecked-head." Then he took up a basekt as if he was going to a funeral, while she elevated her eyebrows and sniffed at him contemptuously.

A DEBATABLE QUESTION.

While much has been written concerning the use of "put up" medicines, the question is still an open one, and demands of the people a careful consideration. The sailent points may be briefly stated, and answered as follows: 1st—Are the sick capable of determining their real condition, the nature of their malady, and selecting the proper remedy or means of cure? 2d—Can a physician, no matter how aktilful, prepare a universal remedy, adapted to the real-ring in different latitudes, and subject tervarious climatic influences? In answer to the first proposition, we would say, discasses are named and known by certain "signs" or symptoms, and, as the mother does not need a physician to tell her that her child has the whoofing-cough, or indicate a remedy, so people when afflicted with many of the symptoms concomitant to "impure blood," "torpid liver," and "bad digestion," require no other knowledge of their condition, or the remedy indicated, than they already powers. Second proposition—Many physicians argue that diseases are sectionally peculiar, and that their treatment must therefore vary, and yet quinine, morphine, podophyllin, and handreds of other remedies are prescribed in all countricks to vercome certain conditions. Is it not, therefore, self-evident that a physician whose large experience has made him familiar with the many phases incedent to all impurities of the blood, general and servous debility, liter complaint, appepria, consumption, and catarrh, can prepare a series of remedies exactly adapted to meet the conditions manifest, wherever, and by whatever means, it may have been engendered? The family medicines prepared by whatever means, it may have been engendered? The family medicines prepare devident which has a subood purifyer and general tonic, while his Pavorite Prescription cures those weaknesses peculiar to women, after physicians have failed. His Pleasant Purgative Pellets, which are sugar-coarded and little larger than mustard seeds, are a safe and certain cure for "torpid" liver and constipatio cording to report he was taken up by Tilden and sent down to Florida. From time to time he has forwarded to Congressman Finley, affidavits of different parties, and who were parties to the count, going to show that the vote was fraudulently counted, and capped the climax which he sent from Jacksonville over a fortught ago. It had been the intention of those who have been secretly making this investigation, to introduce a preamble and resolution; the first, reciting the allegation that the vote of Florida was fraudulently counted, to be fortified by the confessions and affidavits received; and the second, calling for an investigation of the allegad fraudulent count by the Judiciary Committee. The purpose was to spring the matter as a surprise upon the House, with such an overwhelming mass of confirmative testimony as would preclude the possibility of a defeat of the resolution for investigation. By some means, the matter was prematurely given publicity at Jacksonville and telegraphed in meagre outline over the country by the Associated Press. This has somewhat disarranged the plans heretofore sgreed upon, and the course now to be pursued is left for subsequent action.

WM. E. CHANDLER says of Morton, who is the person who worked up the so-called confession, that he was with the committee of citizens who went to riving to and rendered valuable services to himself and others. He says that he does not believe that Hayes did not carry Florida on an honest count, but that if McLin's confession is to the contrary effect, it will,
